STITCHED AND SQUARED

Combining Turnstyles` renowned craftsmanship in leather bridal work with precision engineering has resulted in a new range of square door levers and door pulls with hand stitched leather finishing.

Blending tradition with contemporary seldom comes off, but in this instance the combination of two opposing style has worked, giving the leather a cutting edge and the square symmetry of the metalwork a softer more tactile finish.

Door levers come with square roses and escutcheons to compliment the grips (as shown), along with door pulls. The choice of leather now stretches to six different colours and tones, from the rich Chestnut (as shown) to the vibrant Jazz Red.
