Inspired by the Arm chair 400 (better known as the “Tank”) by Alvar Aalto and also the Plywood Lounge Chair by Charles Eames, Christina created the simple sleek lines and straight forward appearance that is “The Bridge” to compliment the modern classic interior.

Substantial yet refined, The Bridge is the perfect door handle, worked and reworked again and again until perfected. Return to door with an elegant sweep and set on a newly developed square and almost flush rose, “The Bridge” is the conduit between art and engineering.

Cast in solid brass and available in all of Turnstyle’s metal finishes, including polished nickel (as shown) and the new vintage finishes. World class ironmongery for world class interiors “The Bridge” is set to be the Little Black Dress of door hardware.
