GRAPHENSTONE X ENGLISH HERITAGE
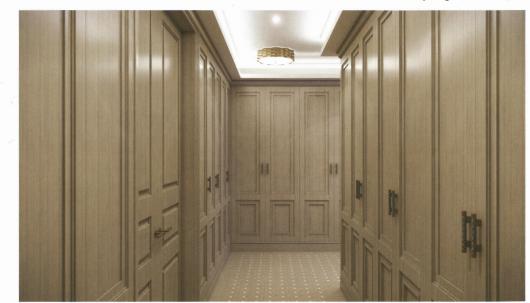

Graphenstone Paints announced a landmark collaboration with English Heritage, the charity that cares for over 400 of England's most beloved historic sites. Together, they have curated a beautiful new collection of 120 colours, including 24 exclusive shades inspired by some of English Heritage's most iconic properties. Graphenstone's new collection includes a palette of 24 exquisite shades, meticulously curated and developed using scanned data and references from original wallpapers, fabrics, furniture and paints used in these esteemed buildings. Blending historical inspiration with contemporary colour schemes, the new collection is available in Graphenstone's innovative paints. These paints combine traditional materials such as lime, calcium carbonates and silicates, with graphene—one of the planet's most durable carbon fibres—providing Class 1 durability and suitability for both interior and exterior applications. All the new colours will be available in Graphenstone's new reusable Peel & Stick colour samples. Made with 30% recycled materials and using approximately 94% less paint than traditional sample pots, these samples reinforce Graphenstone's commitment to sustainability by reducing waste and minimising their operational carbon footprint. For every purchase made, a proportion of the proceeds will go to English Heritage and help to preserve more than 400 of the charity's historic sites across the country.

INTERIOR DESIGNER RIMA TATJANA DESIGNS BESPOKE FURNITURE PIECES THAT SEAMLESSLY BLEND INTO A SCHEME AND CREATE BEAUTIFULLY TAILORED SPACES

With an extensive background in architecture, art history, and antiques, Rima Tatjana Ghubril is the inspiration behind Rima Tatjana Interiors, an interior design consultancy with a wide service spectrum that ranges from designing a one-off piece of furniture to undertaking complete structural renovations.

Working in collaboration with a team of architects and surveyors, Rima Tatjana Interiors liaises with managing agents and the local authority for any building approvals. Plans of existing and proposed layouts are submitted to the client for their consideration prior to commencement.

Rima Tatjana Interiors enjoys the loyalty of clients through a continued creativity and a strong ability to identify and meet the client's specific needs. The client's space, whether large or small, is manipulated to include all residential/commercial requirements without sacrificing style and glamour. Both colour and lighting are carefully considered to enhance a mood or to create an illusion of space. With a passion for natural materials such as wood and marble, suede and leather, silk and cotton, Rima Tatjana Interiors knits together an interior rich with a play of contrasts, warm with colour and outlined with the client's functional requirements of the space.

A bespoke service, Uniquely Tatjana, offers clients the luxury of commissioning a feature that is custom made and totally unique. Examples include bookcases and desks, fabric walling, leather tiles for flooring and numerous paint effects. Through it's sister company Intelitrade Developments Ltd, a complete bespoke joinery service is offered. From architect, main contractor to end-user client; through a team of skilled craftsmen, the bespoke joinery service builds the vision to perfection. In the featured project, a family home in London, bespoke furniture was tailored to accommodate bunk beds in the Children's areas as well as two workspaces and numerous shelving units. A seamless design that harmoniously merges function and aesthetic. The dressing room for the principal suite is crafted through the bespoke service, Uniquely Tatjana, in Fench brushed oak and finished with braided metallic leather handles. Ceiling lights with woven brushed bronze surround decorate the ceiling and diffuse a warm glow throughout.
